Dear Prospective Students,

Heartily welcome to the University of Szeged! Our institution is characterized by its diversity, its exceptional standards of education and research, as well as its European-standard medical care. The University of Szeged (SZTE, as often referred to in Hungarian) has been ranked the best university in Hungary for years, according to the international QS World University Rankings. Besides our excellent lecturers and researchers, our modern educational infrastructure and high quality student-services - together with various mentoring programmes – allow you not only to unfold your unique talents, but to be prepared for the job market. This brochure contains all the important information you need to select the right programme for you: we collected all the full-time study programmes taught in English at our 12 faculties as well as the services supporting students and the advantages of being part of the University's community. I truly hope that after going through this brochure you will be convinced to submit your application to the University of Szeged and start your studies with us!

Albert Szent-Györgyi & Vitamin C

Nobel Laureate and one-time Rector of the University of Szeged, Albert Szent-Györgyi received the Nobel Prize in 1937 for his discoveries in connection with the biological combustion process with special reference to vitamin C and the catalysis of fumaric acid. He also recognized that Szeged paprika contained more of the substance hexuronic acid (i.e. vitamin C) than citrus fruits. The University of Szeged is committed to preserving the scientific heritage of Albert Szent-Györgyi.

Katalin Karikó & the mRNA vaccines

Katalin Karikó, honorary doctor, research professor and Alumna of the University of Szeged received numerous prestigious medical prizes for the discovery of specific RNA modification. She began studying RNA at the University of Szeged and the Szeged Biological Research Centre at a time when it was largely considered uninteresting as a therapeutic molecule, but her dedication over the past three decades helped bringing mRNA vaccines to the world. Her achievements emphasize the importance of basic research.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND INNOVATION

The University of Szeged is famous for research, development and innovation (R&D&I) excellence. The institution is an officially recognized research university, with its 2200+ instructors and researchers actively involved in national and international research projects. Numerous research projects are conducted in the Szeged Biological Research Centre, in the Albert Szent-Györgyi Health Centre and in the ELI-ALPs Laser Research Center.

ENVIRONMENTAL INVESTMENTS

We have been ranked one of the greenest universities in Hungary by the UI GreenMetric World University Ranking. Energy-efficiency, solar cell energy production, green developments of the Study and Information Centre (TIK), geothermic energy usage, selective waste collection, recycling grey water, the use of Planibel Tri glass technology and the environment-consciousness of the management have all contributed to this.

HCEMM
Translational Medicine

The Hungarian Centre of Excellence for Molecular Medicine (HCEMM) is working on research and development related to healthy ageing. For the administration of the HCEMM program, HCEMM Kft. was incorporated by the Biological Research Center Szeged (BRC), the Semmelweis University in Budapest and the University of Szeged (SZTE). The European Molecular Biological Laboratory (EMBL) functions as the advanced partner of HCEMM. In addition to the initial E.U. Teaming Grant that led to the creation of HCEMM, the Centre of Excellence has also received National Laboratory status in Hungary in 2020.

PhD students of SZTE may participate in educational programs and international cooperations for the members of the research groups.

Building Europe's Campus for Global Health

European University Alliance for Global Health

The European University Alliance for Global Health (EUGLOH) brings together nine universities from across Europe. Combining their outstanding expertise in Global Health, EUGLOH will build the European University of the future.

All students of the University of Szeged have the opportunity to visit the other EUGLOH Alliance partner institutions with short- and long-term Erasmus mobilities, and participate in various courses, workshops and events in order to deepen their knowledge, improve their skills, explore other cultures and widen their international network.

Key Goals of EUGLOH

- Interdisciplinary Global Health programmes across universities – striving towards a joint European degree.
- A vibrant, multicultural and inclusive inter-university campus.
- Seamless mobility for students, staff and professionals – physical and virtual.
- Strong links between higher education, research and local socio-economic ecosystems to prepare young people for the jobs and challenges of tomorrow.
- Empowering future generations to find solutions for Global Health challenges.

Felícia Lili BOZÓKY

Felícia Lili Bozóky has travelled the globe with only her ukulele: she is a singer, songwriter, hobby photographer, and on the sidenote a pediatric surgeon in Stockholm. You could call her anything but ordinary. She was born in Szeged from Hungarian parents, was raised in Sweden and she returned to her hometown to graduate in medicine at the University of Szeged. Ms. Bozóki now lives in Sweden, but she visits Hungary quite regularly, performing with her one-man space-pop band „I am Soyuz”.

Erasmus Student Network

ESN Mentors, as members of a non-governmental, volunteer-based student organisation in Europe, are volunteers who help foreign scholarship students settling down in SzegeD. In cooperation with the University, they help newly arrived students starting their academic and social life at SZTE and SzegeD. ESN and their events bring international students closer to the local community, and last but not least, they make friends with them, all in order to provide opportunities for cultural understanding and self-development under the principle of students helping students and to build a more peaceful and unified Europe of tomorrow.

Mentoring Centre for International Students (Located in the University Main building at Dugonics square 13. Office No. 45.)

The Mentoring Centre for International Students has been established at the University of Szeged to help the students in their everyday lives. It's open every day, and the mentors of the Erasmus Student Network Szeged are guiding the students (for example where they can be informed about where they should go with their case, how they can apply for a doctor's appointment, etc.) The coordinators of the Directorate for International Relations and Public Affairs are available at the office during opening hours.

Jargal Ganzorig

from Mongolia- Agricultural Engineering (BSc)

I am a third year Agriculture Engineering student at the Faculty of Agriculture, SZTE. I chose the University of Szeged as my study destination because I saw it as one of the best institutions in Europe and the best in Hungary in the field of Natural Science which is my true passion. I come from the coldest capital city in the world, Ulaanbaatar, so it makes me a big fan of sun and warm weather and since Szeged is the city of Sunshine, this also attracted me to pursue my studies here. I think that Szeged is entirely based on its university students and youth, so most of the things that happen here are mostly dedicated to us. The university organises additional extracurricular activities and academic programs that assist students to improve their other skills besides their professional fields. Also, as a big enthusiast of becoming a polyglot, the university's free language programs are golden opportunity to achieve my goals. I am really grateful for my faculty's workers and professors because they are one of the most supportive and kindest people I have ever met in my life.

Kourosh Zaremalekabadi

from Iran – Medical Programme (MD)

Studying in the University of Szeged was a lifetime opportunity, not only I studied here but I found very generous friends also. University of Szeged gave me the chance to be the person who I always wanted to be and I'm thankful for that. My favourite aspect of being a SZTE student is that I was able to meet different students from other countries with different cultures and being able to share our life and learn from each other. During my study path, sometimes it was hard and stressful for me to prepare for my exams, I had my ups and downs in these years but I love what I study and this feeling saved me through all those tough situations. And I encourage everyone who wants to become a doctor to follow their dreams and reach their goal. In the future I want to continue this journey and learn as much as I can and hopefully one day I can share my knowledge with younger generations.

Kazi Ishrak Faiyaz

from Bangladesh – Biology (MSc)

I am studying Master's in Biology at the Faculty of Science and Informatics. While searching for my study destination, I learned that the Vitamin C was extracted by Albert Szent-Györgyi in Hungary at the SZTE and due to the nature of my field of study, this caught my attention. I have a very busy schedule during the weekdays, between attending classes and preparing to defend my thesis, I am also working at the Biological Research Centre (BRC). I am very interested in Genetics, currently it is the field that attracts me the most as I am able to learn more and more about the genetic diseases and with research we try to figure out how we can prevent the genetic diseases. SZTE has offered me the knowledge of many techniques that I am able to use and implement at a professional level. In the future, I am planning to pursue my PhD studies as well and I see myself working in the research and pharmaceutical industry.

Thalyta Santos

from Brazil – International Relations MA

I am doing a Master's in International Relations at the Faculty of Law & Political Sciences. I have a very busy daily schedule since apart from my studies I am a member of the HEAD Szeged, House of European Affairs and Diplomacy organisation and the student board of the EUGLOH, European Alliance for Global Health. By joining and being a member of university organisation and alliance, the Institution & the Faculty has contributed to my professional life by teaching me new skills like public speaking, negotiation skills and the kind of skills that are of a high importance to an International Relations student. In the summer, I participated in the "EUGLOH's Got Talent" event, which took place during the Eugloh Annual Summit where I sang, and I actually ended up winning the contest, which was a very positive experience since honestly speaking I didn't even expect to be selected to compete. I am constantly on the move, I am invited to interviews, participating in events and presenting. These are all things that I would have never imagined 2 years ago when I first started my Master's program. I would like to advice students to always be up to date with the possibilities that the institution offers for them and always take advantage of them.

Ace Pagkaliwangan

from The Philippines - Physiotherapist (BSc)

I am a Physiotherapy student and am currently in my 2nd year of studies at the Faculty of Health Sciences and Social Studies. The city captivates me with its convenient transport system, safe and peaceful environment, and diverse culture where countless festivals are celebrated all year round. My faculty's classes are held in a highly practical and multinational atmosphere that prepares me for a competitive workplace. Aside from studying, I am also working part-time as a Writer which parallelly helps me in my professional and academic career. Studying at SZTE generously gives me a scholastic reputation that brings honour and pride, due to successful names that once graced the halls of the University, namely Katalin Karikó and Albert Szent-Györgyi, thus carrying with me the banner of excellence and virtue. In the future, I envisioned myself setting foot in the European Union though if my motherland requires me – The Philippines; I will heed her call and offer my services back to my country.

Aisha Adan

from Kenya - Agricultural Engineering (BSc)

I study at the Faculty of Agriculture majoring in Agriculture Engineering (BSc). One of the things that attracted me to the University of Szeged other than its high rankings is the rich international atmosphere, the university faculties are scattered all over the city and whenever you move around the city you see students and the University brought life to the city. After arrival, instead of the normal foreign student hustle, the university life is smooth thanks to the amiable staff and the student mentors who walk with you through every step of settling down. At the faculty of agriculture, we get both theoretical and practical knowledge, thanks to the committed lecturers. In addition to this, we have the university's pilot farm where we get first hand experiences relating to our studies and future occupations. I am really grateful that I am studying at the SZTE since it offers many experiences for students by joining EUGLOH or Coursera courses or going on ERASMUS. Through the past year, I have gained several certificates from Coursera and I feel like I learned many new skills that are not related to my field of studies but are necessary in day to day life. The certificates are just there for you to take them, all you have to do is participate! Why not take advantage of such an opportunity when the University has made it possible for us for free?

The Greatest Community in Town

The University is often referred as the city within a city since its 22 000 students and 9348 academic & non-academic staff form the biggest community in Szeged.

There is a great choice of cultural and sports programmes throughout the year in town and at the university such as the International Cultural Event to which not only students, but ambassadors are also invited to watch the prestigious show, or the SZIN (Youth Days of Szeged), which takes place at the bank of the river Tisza every August, giving home to concerts and other events for four days.

Besides several clubs, student unions and social groups, there are successful sports teams at SZTE as well: Naturtex – SZTE-Szedeák (men's basketball team), Szegedi Vízmű Taylor&Nash SZTE (women's water polo team), the SZTE Fencing Club, Universitas SC football team, etc.

SZEGED as the Second Hometown of International Students

Public transport, the biggest cycling community in Hungary, swimming pools, baths, theatres, and cinemas are here to serve visitors and students while staying in town.

One of Szeged's iconic buildings, the red-brick Dóm (Votive church), is among Hungary's largest cathedrals, and its facade and stairs provide a stage for the famous Szeged Open-Air Festival. The church and the Dóm Square combine the characteristics of a Mediterranean style piazza with the formal brick architecture.

Szeged is among the best European University Towns (CondéNast Traveler). According to Trivago travel site Szeged is the 5th on the list considering the best price-value rates of travel destinations.
